10 CENTS PER WEEK

WILL BE BURNED

Infuriated Mob Captures One and Corralled Thirteen Negroes in Louisiana.

HE KILLED A PLANTER

The Murdered Man Was Engaged to a Popular Young Lady in Louisville. Murderer Will be Burned.

THE OTHERS WILL BE HANGED AT ONCE

Shreveport, La., June 13.—The city is in the greatest excitement. Two miles from town, in Killebrew's store, are corralled thirteen negroes who are charged with complicity in the murder of John Gray Foster, a wealthy planter, who was murdered a day or two ago, and they will all be hanged.

The store is surrounded by a thousand infuriated citizens, and nothing can prevent the capture of the murderers.

Prince Edwards, Foster's murderer, was surrounded in a swamp at 11 o'clock this morning, and will be burned when captured.

The dead man was one of the wealthiest and most popular men in this section, and was engaged to marry Miss Felix, daughter of a Louisville preacher.

A dispatch from Memphis states that Governor McMillin and wife, the latter a sister of the murdered man, who had been here attending the funeral, have just returned, and that Mrs. McMillin, who was so prostrated over the murder of her brother and the threatened lynching of the murderers, can go no further, and is very ill at the Peabody hotel.

The governor refuses to leave her bedside a moment.

HOOKED BY A COW.

NARROW ESCAPE OF A SMALL BOY ON SOUTH THIRD STREET.

Joe, the six year old son of Mrs. M. Paired, of South Third street near Norton, was hooked by a cow this morning about 10:30 o'clock and badly hurt. He was playing in the street when the cow attacked him, knocking him down and painfully hurting his left arm and hand. He narrowly missed being trampled to death. Accidents of this sort are very unusual, as the town cows are usually, so busy eating people's flowers and shrubbery that they have little time to devote to such diversions as hooking little boys.

WANTS TO DIE.

MRS. ROSA MILTON CAUSES TROUBLE IN FIRST WARD.

Mrs. Rosa Milton, who lives at the foot of Fifth street, has been causing considerable trouble for the past several days by her strange and sometimes violent action. Her husband claims she was once in the asylum, and seems to be again losing her mind, and last night the police had to be called to take charge of her. She threatens to kill her husband and herself.

After finding her wandering about near the incline and turning her over to the police, she was taken home, where she seemed to get better. If she does not improve she will be sent to the asylum.

BANNER SALVE,
The most healing ointment in the world.

WELL KNOWN FARMER.

MR. JAKE FONDOW DIED AT HIS HOME IN THE COUNTY LAST NIGHT.

Mr. Jake Fondow, the well known farmer residing about seven miles out on the Lovelaceville road, died of general debility last night at 9:30 o'clock at his home. The deceased was 83 years of age at his death and was one of the best known farmers of this section. He leaves many relatives to mourn his loss.

The funeral was held this afternoon at 4 o'clock, interment at the family burial ground.

SPECIAL TRAIN.

J. T. WALLACE PASSES THROUGH FOR CHICAGO.

Second Vice President Harahan's Statement—The News Today in Railroad Circles.

Mr. J. F. Wallace, father of Superintendent H. U. Wallace of the Louisville division and Assistant General Manager of the Illinois Central railroad passed through the city last night on a special about 7:30 on route from the south to headquarters in Chicago. He has been on a southern business trip and did not stop over at this city any longer than was necessary in transferring his train across the Ohio river.

Master Mechanic Barton has returned from Louisville.

Vice President Harahan, of the Illinois Central, has notified the executive officers of connecting lines that after further conference with the officers of the Southern Railway, he has decided not to accept, for the present, at least, the decision of the controller of the treasury that all accounts with the war department for the transportation of troops must be settled on the basis of party rates. The government will be asked by the Illinois Central for an opportunity to make a special representation of its case.

The "Good Roads" train on the Illinois Central is now building a sample mile of road at McComb City, sixty miles south of Jackson, Miss. It will start north in a couple of days.

Farm Laborers in Sweden.
There is a special class of farm laborers in Sweden who are given so many acres of land for their own use in consideration of so many days' labor during the year for the owner of the farm. They are a sort of fixture to an estate, and their like exists in no other country.

Another case that aroused much interest was that against George Wright, colored, charged with malicious assault in two cases, one for assailing his wife, Jennie Wright, with an axe, and the other with attacking Ben Doolin, colored, with an ax near Fifth and Clark streets. The Wright woman was charged with maliciously shooting at her husband and she and Doolin with immorality.

Wright testified that he had suspected the intimacy of his wife with Doolin, and found them together Sunday night. He admitted that he intended to kill them both, and all that prevented him was that he couldn't get in a good lick with his axe.

The woman claimed that Doolin went three to take her to church but she was afraid Wright would catch them on the way and kill them both, as he had threatened to do, and made Doolin remain at her house until 3 o'clock in the morning. The court fined Wright one dollar and costs in each of the two breaches of the peace and held the woman to answer for malicious shooting and fined her and Doolin $20 and costs for immorality. Wright frankly informed the officers that he will kill them both yet and then the law can do with him whatever it wants to. The woman in the case is a very large woman, and seems to be afraid of her husband. Doolin's mouth is badly cut and swollen from its contact with the ax.

Frank Gilbert, colored, and Tom Burrell, were fined $2 and costs each for a breach of ordinance and indecent exposure respectively.

A case against John Hamilton, colored, charged with stealing a ring last January, was dismissed and John did a cake walk out of the court room in the exuberance of his happiness.

Enoch McGathay, a negro of Bell's Station, Tenn., was charged with robbing a negro named Walter Clark, from Marshall county, of $16 down near Ward's saloon Monday. It seems he and a negro named Hodge tried to "skin" another negro by some sort of a string trick, and when he pulled out his money to bet, Hodge grabbed it and gave it to McGathay, who ran and was subsequently captured. He had seven dollars of the money but Hodge escaped and is still at large. McGathay claimed in his testimony that he and Hodge and the other negro were "betting." He was held to answer in the sum of $300 and in default of bond went to jail. Clark was very anxious to get his $7 but the court ordered it held until circuit court meets.

The cases were called this morning by Judge Sanders and continued until Monday. After Dr. Griffith's examination of the girl, City Physician Sanders also made an examination and the evidence of both, it is said, will be calculated to show that it was not the girl's first experience in immoral conduct.

POLICE DOINGS

The Cases Against Mechanicsburg Troughs Continued Until Monday.

THE WOMEN HAVE SKIPPED

George Wright Confessed He Tried to Kill His Wife and Ben Doolin—Woman Held to Answer.

SEVERAL OTHER CASES TRIED TODAY.

Judge Sanders had a large crowd and a large docket this morning. The principal case was against John Gaynor, John Bulger, Boone Sears and Frank Eich, Minnie Gaynor, Frankie White and Mary Eich, charged with rape, conspiracy to rape and detaining a woman. Bulger is charged with rape.

As stated yesterday the warrants were issued at the instance of Edith May Beasley, a thirteen year old girl, who claims the crowd persuaded her to start to a "party" Monday night and then forced her to accompany them in a skiff to Livingston Point on a carousel that lasted a night and a day.

The women, it is understood, have left the city. None have been arrested, and it is reported they crossed to Illinois and have probably gotten far away by this time.

The young men belong to the toughest of Mechanicsburg's tough element. Several of them have been in trouble before. The commonwealth, however, seems to think that it will be a hard matter to convict them in this case, as the only witnesses of consequence is the girl herself, and to offset her testimony all the crowd will probably swear exactly the opposite. Bulger and Gaynor are already under indictment in circuit court for robbery.

The cases were called this morning by Judge Sanders and continued until Monday. After Dr. Griffith's examination of the girl, City Physician Sanders also made an examination and the evidence of both, it is said, will be calculated to show that it was not the girl's first experience in immoral conduct.

SHOOTING SCRAPE

BOYS FALL OUT AND ONE ATTEMPTS TO SHOOT THE OTHER.

A Pistol Is Fired and Then the Fight Begins—Sheriff After Them.

The Herald of Metropolis, reports that a few days ago a shooting scrape occurred in Kentucky back of the ferry landing, opposite Metropolis. A man named Williams and his wife had been living apart and one son living with each. The brothers learned to hate each other and when they met they quarreled, the younger drawing a pistol and firing. They had clinched and the bullet burned them both. The older brother then took the pistol away from the other and firing it into the air until it was empty, proceeded to give him a sound thrashing. A deputy sheriff was looking for them yesterday.

A DAILY THOUGHT.

"Vigorous health enables you to take a firm grip on life."

"You'll pay to hurry," is the watchword of some of the gang at Frankfort. They are announcing for state office rather early.

A Topeka, bank cashier committed suicide because a shortage of $8,000 was discovered. Cashiers ought to make good newspaper managers. They always collect in advance.

The National Editorial Association is in session at Buffalo, with hundreds of delegates in attendance. The papers of the country, however, are appearing with their usual regularity.

A Henderson county man has been sentenced to twelve days in jail for stealing a fine bird dog. If the dog was worth what the owner claimed, there are doubtless a great many thieves who would like to steal about a car load at that price.

Emilio Zertana has proclaimed himself Aguinaldo's successor in the Philippines. When he starts his spectacular performance he is liable to find himself in about the same fix that his predecessor is in now. Emilio is a poor joker.

A Chicago boy was ordered by a court taken from his parents because they had treated his sprained ankle with the Christian Science tomfoolery and his leg shrank until it was much shorter than it really ought to be. The victim in this case reversed the usual order. In most cases the leg is pulled until it is abnormally long.

The Cuban constitutional convention has declined to reconsider its action on the Platt amendment, but will probably adopt a substitute embodying the amendment as passed by congress. The Cubans think there are more ways than one to kill a dog, and the United States doesn't care particularly, so long as the dog is killed.

The latest official life insurance statistics show that in 1890 the amounts distributed in 6200 cities of United States and Canada was $273,690,876. One hundred and sixty seven cities received more than $100,000 each, and nineteen cities more than $1,000,000 each. The amount paid out in southern states shows an encouraging increase, the payments being $20,500,000, one million more than the preceding year.

Dr. Alexander Dowie has advanced a peg or two. A few days ago he thought he was Elijah II, but now he is certain. He called a meeting of his elders, overseers, deacons and whatnot, and by a vote of 249 to 5 it was decided that he was Elijah without doubt. After deciding to flip a coin Christ comes again, and firing two of the obstreperous elders who voted their doubts, the meeting adjourned. If Dowie is any Biblical character at all, he is of the genus that made Balaam famous.

The Democratic press has begun to ascribe President McKinley's denial of any desire to serve a third term as president to "politics." They want to make it appear that while he officially and formally declines any intention to run again, he really would not be averse to it. Those who know President McKinley fully realize that this is not his way of doing things, and the reason he noticed the rumor at all, and took the trouble to publicly express his views, according to men high in administration circles, was that he wanted the public mind cleared instantly of even the suspicion that it was his desire or intention to seek or accept a third term nomination, and thus destroy at its inception the consequent antagonism that might confront the administration in the disposition of paramount questions now before the people, or which might hereafter arise. The denial is clear, dignified, and in every way characteristic of the man. While the Republican party must needs bow in deference to the president's will, it is nevertheless the opinion of many of the party leaders that there is nothing wrong in a man's being nominated for a third term if the leaders choose to nominate him, and nothing wrong in serving a third term if the people want, and elect him. It is a matter, however, governed entirely by individual opinion.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreadful disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. THE RIVER NEWS.

Captain Evans of Little Rock left this morning with his new purchase the steamer Elva which he bought from Captain J. L. Slaih, of Louisville. The boat pulled out at 2 o'clock this morning with Jack Anderson as pilot and Ed Hart engineer. Captain Evans paid $3,000 for the boat.

The City of Clifton arrived from Tennessee river at 6 o'clock this morning with a good trip and departed for St. Louis at 8 a. m.

The Kenton comes off the docks this afternoon and the N. C. and St. L. wharfbat will be taken out for general repairs. The Kenton has a hull under her new almost as good as new.

One of the best barges of its class ever built is for sale. The barge is 120 feet long, 24 foot beam, 6 foot deep, built of white oak six inch side girdles. The large has splendid rakes and is only three months old. For price, etc., see W. E. Lambdin.

Captain J. L. Slaih yesterday sold his boat, Elva, to Captain Evans, of Little Rock, Ark. The consideration is private. The papers were prepared at Collector Puryear's office yesterday and will shortly be filed out, in fact, as soon as Captain Slaih can return home and mail the collector his ownership documents, which will be transferred to the new owner. The Elva is a snug little craft and was started southward this morning about 1 o'clock.

The Tennessee is due tonight from Tennessee river. The City of Memphis from St. Louis passed up last night with a big trip. She laid here several hours.

Upon the return of the Buffort from Nashville next Sunday afternoon she pulls out immediately for Clarksville, instead of laying over the following day at noon. The reason of this is that she carries an excursion out of Clarksville, and uses all available time in order not to leave the regularity of her runs. She returned yesterday morning shortly after 8 o'clock from that city and left at noon for Nashville.

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock the Joe Fowler got away from Evansville after laying here for two hours. The Emma Cooper with a tow of ties arrived from Tennessee river last night.

The Dick Fowler was well patronized this morning on her departure for Cairo. She had 52 passengers for Cairo and way points and departed at 8:15.

The R. A. Speed is due today from Tennessee river with 32,000 ties for the Aver, Lord Tie Co.

A girl residing in Richmond, Va., has recovered $500 damages from a steamboat company for naming a boat after her without her permission. She took exceptions to the paragraph stating that "Mattie Marshall, having been thoroughly scrubbed, painted, refitted with new boilers, will hereafter serve as mail carrier and poke her pretty nose in the river business for all she's worth."

The City of Pittsburgh left Cincinnati today for Memphis.

President McKinley has remitted a fine of $100 assessed against William Robinson of this city, who piloted the harbor towboat Faunie Wallace into the bank to keep her from sinking some time since. He was charged by the federal court with acting as pilot without license.

The Inverness is due from White river next Sunday. She is owned by the Aver Lord Tie Co.

LAWYER DROPS DEAD.

WHAT CAUSES DEAFNESS.

The Principal Cause is Curable but Generally Overlooked.

Many things may cause deafness, and very often it is difficult to trace a cause. Some people inherit deafness. Acute diseases like scarlet fever sometimes cause deafness. But by far the most common cause of loss of hearing is catarrh of the head and throat.

A prominent specialist on ear troubles gives as his opinion that nine out of ten cases of deafness is traced to throat trouble; this is probably overstated but it is certainly true that more than half of all cases of poor hearing were caused by catarrh.

The catarrhal secretion in the lungs and throat finds its way into the Eustachian tube and by clogging it up very soon affects the hearing and the hardening of the secretion makes the loss of hearing permanent, unless the catarrh which caused the trouble is cured.

Those who are hard of hearing may think this a little far fetched, but any one at all observant must have noticed how a hard cold in the head will affect the hearing and that catarrh if long neglected will certainly impair the sense of hearing and ultimately cause deafness.

If the nose and throat are kept clear and free from the unhealthy secretions of catarrh, the hearing will at once greatly improve and anyone suffering from deafness and catarrh can satisfy themselves on this point by using a fifty cent box of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a new catarrh cure, which in the past year has won the approval of thousands of catarrh sufferers as well as physicians, because it is in convenient form to use, contains no cocaine or opiate and is as safe and pleasant for children as for their elders.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is a wholesome combination of Blood root, [Onalacol], Eucalyptol and similar antiseptics and they cure catarrh and catarrhal deafness by action upon the blood and mucous membrane of the nose and throat.

As one physician aptly expresses it: "You do not have to draw upon the imagination to discover whether you are getting benefit from Stuart's Catarrh Tablets; improvement and relief are apparent from the first tablet taken."

All druggists sell and recommend them. They cost but fifty cents for full sized package and any catarrh sufferer who has wasted time and money on sprays, salves and powders will appreciate to the full the merit of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

MORNING FIRE.

WHISKEY HOUSE OF M. KAHN DAMAGED BY A BLAZE THIS MORNING.

The fire department was called to the wholesale whiskey house of M. Kahn this morning about 4 o'clock by a dangerous blaze in the second story. The fire was put out in a short time, but it is estimated there was about $1,000 damage to the building and stock by fire and water.

The blaze originated in the ceiling of the second story, and Chief Woods could not tell how it started. There were no wires in that part of the house, and the only cause by which it is explained is spontaneous combustion. The building is owned by Mr. Jacob Well and the loss to both building and stock is covered by insurance.

Observationsat Random

The other afternoon a youngster came running into Marshal Collins' office at the city hall with a sock full of money. He had found it, and obeying the first impulse that seized him, took it to the police, where people take everything, including their own troubles and those of other people. The youngster, however, wanted to find the owner of the money and the marshal was willing to help him.

Mayor Lang and Marshal Collins undertook to count it. It was more money than they had seen in quite a while, and in the excitement of the first count they found $800.

Presently some one came in and they had to count the money again to show them how much there was.

Another doubting Thomas presently arrived and insisted that they count it for him. He was from Missouri and had to be sighted. So they counted it and found only $700. They began to wonder, and just to satisfy themselves decided to try it again, and learn where the rest of the money had disappeared to. When the third count was finished there was but $600 in the sock.

"W-w-w-well," observed a wag who happened to be there, "if the owner of t-t-t that m-m-money don't e-e-come p-p-pretty q-q-quick, he w-w-won't even have a s-s-sock to take home!"

Col. James P. Thompson vouches for this as the latest story of Kentucky. Not long ago two men met in Texas, where they were to locate. One was from Iowa and the other from Kentucky, and they had gone to Texas to seek fame and fortune, boring for oil. Oil is a rather unusual fluid for a Kentuckian to bore for, but that's what the Kentuckian at the time of the story was seeking most.

"Why," said the man from Iowa as he met the Kentuckian on the trail, "what do you want to leave Kentucky for? I have always heard that Kentucky was one of the best states in the world."

"Yes it is," replied the other. "Kentucky is no doubt the best state in the country."

"What do you want to leave it for, then?"

"Oh, too many sheriffs."

"Too many sheriffs, how's that?"

"Well, every time you kill a man there are about forty sheriffs after you."

"Well, what do you want to kill a man for? It seems that you would want to obey the law, and then the sheriffs wouldn't bother you."

"It's the whiskey. It's the whiskey, man!"

"The whiskey? Why I have always heard that they made the finest in the world in Kentucky."

"So they do, the finest whiskey in the world!"

"Why should the whiskey cause people to kill one another, then?"

"Well," explained the Kentuckian, "you can take a mountain rabbit and give him a teaspoonful of that Kentucky whiskey, and he'll go right up to a bull dog and spit in his face."

The man from Iowa seemed satisfied that the man from Kentucky had acted wisely in leaving home.

There have recently been circulated in Paducah and vicinity several thrilling stories that bear the well known mark of one of the most unscrupulous practical jokers in America. He is a man known everywhere in this section and never hesitates to start any kind of a report, and often it is weeks until every trace of the report has been obliterated by truth.

One day he thought it would be a good idea to tell it around that one of his acquaintances who was at work in Christian county had been killed. He met a friend and said "Too bad about Jones, wasn't it?"

Jones wasn't the name but it will do.

"I hadn't heard about it," replied the other, "What happened?"

"Why, he was at work up here in Christian county, and one of the men at work for him shot him twice through the heart."

The man to whom he told it spread it as rapidly as he could, and that was pretty rapidly, and in due time it reached the ears of his wife, who was here alone.

She was of course frantic, and decided at once to go to Hopkinsville. She didn't happen to have enough money, and finally sold the family cow for ten dollars, which was about one-fourth of what it was worth. The joker finally heard of it and sent word to her that he had started the rumor as a joke. She was very much relieved—but that didn't bring back the family cow.

Another one of his celebrated jokes was that that one of his friends had been found hanging in the stable to a plow line. It was circulated all over this section, and it was days before many of the victim's friends found out that it was all a hoax.

One day a well known man from Illinois who was working teams on this side of the river was reported to have had his throat cut by one of his men. It was the practical joker already mentioned who started it. The report spread like wildfire and the next day scores of people from Illinois arrived on the ferryboat to see about and attend the funeral. They were never allowed to learn that their friend was alive and well, but very mad about the manner in which they had been duped. These are only a few of the many fakes he has started.

The old adage that "haste is waste" was illustrated at the depot several days ago. An old colored woman had come out on the car a little late for the train and arrived on the depot platform just in time to see it begin to pull out. She stopped short when she saw the situation and exclaimed "Dat am sholy a shame of dar evah was one."

She had a large basket on her arm and an old worn out umbrella in her hand, both of which she dropped to the platform and, with her arms akimbo and her feet wide apart, she gazed, with the most dejected look on her face at the departing train.

"Whin kin I git another train, folks?" she asked one of the train men standing by.

"About 1 o'clock tomorrow morning," was the reply.

She then began to wave frantically at an official on the rear end of the last car and taking in the situation he pulled the signal cord and brought the train to a stand-still. The old woman grabbed up her umbrella and basket and set up a lively sprint for the coach. Before she reached it the basket handle broke and all the contents spilled over an area of several yards. In her haste she gathered up the scattered articles and stuffed them back into the basket again, only to meet with the same luck as before. In her desperation she then gathered the scattered goods in her apron and boarded the train forgetting the basket and her umbrella. She had lost not less than ten minutes by the accident and then waited the train stopped again so that she could recover her basket and umbrella.

GOVERNOR OF ALABAMA DEAD.
Montgomery, Ala., June 13.—Hon. W. D. Jelks, president of the state senate, succeeds Gov. Wm. J. Samford, who died at Tuscaloosa, from heart disease. Governor Samford has been in Tuscaloosa several weeks, having gone there to attend a meeting of the trustees of the state university. He had been ill since before his inauguration as governor, but it was believed that immediate danger of death was past. While in Tuscaloosa, however, his illness returned with renewed violence, and he became so dangerously sick that the physicians feared to remove him to Montgomery. Yesterday Governor Samford was thought to be improving, but grew worse today and succumbed tonight at 10:55 o'clock.

Governor Samford was about 56 years old and was a native of Alabama. He had served in the state senate and in congress; was a member of the constitutional convention of 1875, and held other important public offices. He was elected governor in August of last year and was inaugurated December 1 last.

PREACHES AT TEMPLE ISRAEL.
Rev. Wm. Fineschriber, of Rock Island, Ill., is here and will preach at Temple Israel Friday evening. He will be in Paducah about a week. He is a graduate of some of the finest colleges and his present home is in Danversport, Ia. The service tomorrow night at the Temple will be the first since Rev. H. G. Enelow went to Louisville.

BENTON COURT.
Arguments were heard today in the case against W. A. Herrmann, tried at Benton for false swearing, and it will be given to the jury this afternoon. The case against Lee Walters, charged with false swearing, will then be taken up. Walters went to Benton yesterday.

Pearls for Girls' Hair.
Young girls in London are wearing string of pearls twined in and out of loosely massed coils of hair, and both coral and turquoise beads look pretty worn in the same way. Elegant boys of satin or velvet ribbon are worn, placed in front of the knot of hair on the top of the head, and a small spray of flowers, a single spray of holly, with its red berries, or a full-blown rose, all give a pretty touch to the coiffure. Older women are wearing quaint combs and pins in their hair, thickly jeweled or treated with part nouveau enamel, which serves to introduce a touch of rich coloring.

The Revolution of 1848.
In March, 1848, I had to go over to Paris to finish up some work there and just came in for the revolution. From my windows I had a fine view of all that was going on. I well remember the pandemonium in the streets, the aspect of the savage mob, the wanton firing of shots at quiet spectators, the hoisting of Louis Philippe's nankeen trousers on the flagstaff of the Tuilleries. When the bullets began to come through my windows, I thought it time to be off while it was still possible. Then came the question how to get my box full of precious manuscripts, etc., belonging to the East India company, to the train.

The only railroad open was the line to Havre, which had been broken up close to the station, but farther on was intact. In order to get there we had to climb three barricades. I offered my concierge 5 francs to carry my box, but his wife would not hear of his risking his life in the streets. Ten francs, the same result. But at the sight of a Louis d'or she changed her mind and, with an "Allez, mon ami; allez, toujours," dispatched her husband on his perilous expedition.

Arrived in London, I went straight to the Prussian legation and was the first to give Bunsen the news of Louis Philippe's flight from Paris. So even a poor scholar had to play his small part in the events that go to make up history.—Max Muller's Autobiography.

Montezuma's Well.
One of the most pleasing natural curiosities in the territory of Arizona is the pool of water known as Montezuma's well. It is situated 15 miles northeast of the old abandoned military post known as Camp Verde. It is 250 feet in diameter, and the clear, pure water is about 50 feet below the surface of the surrounding country. Some years ago certain military officers sounded the pool and found that it had a uniform depth of 80 feet of water except in one place, apparently about six feet square, where the sounding line went down about 500 feet without touching bottom.

The well empties into Beaver creek only about 100 yards distant, the water gushing forth from the rocks as though it were under great pressure. The well is undoubtedly supplied from subterranean sources, possibly through the hole sounded by the army officers years ago. The sides of the well are honeycombed with caves and tunnels, permitting sightseers to descend to the water's edge.

Montezuma's well contains no fish. The flow of water from it is the same throughout the season. Popular opinion has attributed the origin of the well to volcanic action, but as the rock surrounding it is limestone it is more than probable that the action of the water is responsible for its creation.—Native American.

TOBACCO MARKET

ABOUT THE SAME ON LEAF TOBACCO THIS WEEK.

Only Two Firms Sell This Week—Matters in Tobacco Circles Quite Dull.

The tobacco market has experienced no material change from that of last week except in lugs which took a sudden leap upward. Gilbert & Co. had no sale and consequently had no report to make.

Farmer & Co. offered 107 hogsheads, a big increase from the offerings of last week, with very few rejections. The market on lugs this week was the strongest of the season. Lugs went up 35 cents higher than they have been the past season with prospects of a continuation of the same condition of prices on this grade. The increase came as a surprise especially in the condition the tobacco market is in at present.

Leaf, in good condition, rough medium prices while the market was not up on unusual and damaged leaf. The lug market is reported good and the leaf sales and condition better than last week.

The Western District Warehouse Co. report the market fully up on lugs and no material change in leaf from the market of last week. There was not a fair attendance of out of town buyers this week as has been the past several weeks but the sales were well attended by the local buyers. The offerings yesterday were 68 and today 39 hogsheads with light rejections. Leaf is reported in good condition and the prices medium or not changed from those of last week. The market has been inferred as dropping off considerably in the past two weeks but both firms holding this week report the market fair. There are not so many hogsheads offered but the prices are still holding out and the market is still fairly up.

Messrs. Halle and Nagel, of Bremen, Germany, are attending the local sales. They are the first foreign buyers to attend the local sales in some time.

EXCITEMENT.

SEVERAL NEW CASES SMALLPOX IN MARSHALL COUNTY.

One Family is Guarded and Medicine is Left Near the House by the Doctor.

There is additional excitement reported in the vicinity of Sharpe, Marshall county. The family of Mrs. Foez, near that place, is stricken with smallpox, according to reports, and the new cases number six.

The attending physician does not go to the house, but leaves the medicine in a convenient place and it is taken to them by H. M. Wade, who has been deputized to guard the house and prevent anyone going there or leaving.

The county a few days ago appropriated $500, with which to construct a pest house, and while the form of disease is very mild, the alarm in some sections is nevertheless great.
